EARNING OUR FREEDOM

As Egyptians celebrate their liberation from the fascism of the Moslem Brotherhood, let us hope Americans will soon be celebrating their liberation from the fascism of Zero.

To The Point wishes you all a gloriously happy Fourth of July. Have fun, celebrate America, and take the time to read the entire Declaration of Independence.

While you read it, note: what counts is not that the Founding Patriots of America wrote these words - it's what they did. What counts is they put these immortal words into action. They pledged their lives, their fortunes, their sacred honor, and fought for America's freedom - knowing that if they failed, they would have been hung by their necks until dead on a gallows, and history would despise them as traitors.

Unless people are willing to fight and risk their lives for freedom, they don't deserve it. Freedom must be earned, or else it will be lost. We are losing it in America today. Let us earn our freedom again.
