HALF-FULL REPORT 01/19/18

"WHOA, NELLIE!" That was the famous expression of beloved sportscaster Keith Jackson – who passed away at age 89 last Friday (1/12) – when something breathtakingly amazing happened on the field of play.

That something happened on the political field of play on Capitol Hill last night, resulting in early this morning the Twitter hashtag #ReleasetheMemo trending as among the most read in the entire world.

Note that was before dawn in DC when I started writing this – just a few hours later the Commie-Fascisti at Twitter erased it off the Worldwide Trends sidebar – after it had hit over 800,000 tweets, replaced by #NationalPopcornDay with less than 5,000.

It began with ace super-reporter Sarah Carter last night (1/18) posting: A Bombshell House Intelligence report exposing extensive FISA abuse could lead to the removal of senior government officials:

> "A review of a classified document outlining what is described as extensive Foreign Intelligence Surveillance Act abuse was made available to all House members Thursday (1/18) and the revelations could lead to the removal of senior officials in the FBI and Department of Justice, several sources with knowledge of the document stated. These sources say the report is 'explosive,' stating they would not be surprised if it leads to the end of Robert Mueller's Special Counsel investigation into President Trump and his associates."

The document is a compilation of information culled from the DOJ-OIG report provided to the House Intelligence Committee last week, prepared by the HIC staff. It specifically focuses on the weaponization of government intelligence by Lynch's DOJ, Comey's FBI, Brennan's CIA, and Clapper's DNI (Director of National Intelligence) to sabotage Trump's candidacy and delegitimize his election.

All in collusion with the Democrat National Committee and Hillary Clinton. You don't get much more treasonous than this. At least, given the reaction from Pubs who've read it – and the radio silence of every Dem who has – that's what everyone suspects. Problem is, the doc is classified, so the contents can't be made public. Thus the deafening clamor to make them so.

While Sebastian Gorka has this to say:

Sebastian Gorka DrG @SebGorka
My sources tell me tonight that the "nuclear" memo is just the beginning.

By the end of it all, the tapping of candidate @realDonaldTrump's phone will be the least of the Left's problems.

So we're all on tenterhooks watching for the hammer we've all been waiting for to come down on the Scandalcrats. One reason to believe the FISA Memo is deadly is the utter silence of the MSM. As of 11am this morning (1/19), there is nothing about it on Drudge, ABC, CBS, CNN, NBC, New York Times, or the Washington Post.

By contrast, last night (1/18) Hannity had on Congressmen Jim Jordan and Matt Gaetz, along with Sarah Carter who broke this story. The 10-minute segment is a must-watch:

Before Sarah's story broke, yesterday TTP ran Jack Kelly's A Scandal of Democrats. Note that of the five Dem scandals he itemized, it's the FISA Memo that confirms his Scandal #1.

As Matt Gaetz concludes on Hannity: "It is clear (from the FISA Memo) that the entire Mueller investigation is a lie built on a foundation of corruption."

Here's how yuge this story is in one photo. Sarah Carter and many Congressfolk are now predicting that several "senior officials" of the Obama Administration may go to prison. Here are three of them in a row:

Left to right, FBI Director James Comey, CIA Director John Brennan, DCI Director James Clapper. It's a good start. We need to finish it with Hillary, if not Zero himself. It's critically important to salvage our corrupt federal government by the crooks committing the corruption going to jail. It's the only way to restore confidence in the American judicial and governmental system.

Plus that's what it will take to truly Drain the Swamp in Washington – and to obliterate the influence of the Fake News Media.

Clapper is likely first to go the slammer, as per this headline Wednesday (1/17): Lawmakers want James Clapper prosecuted for surveillance testimony before statute of limitations runs out. He perjured himself to Congress five years ago this March, so the time to get him is now.

Meanwhile, the WaPo had a story this morning (1/19) that jumps the gun: Former FBI Director Comey to Teach Course on Ethical Leadership at College of William & Mary. You may have to postpone that, Jim. Or off-campus video it while wearing an orange jumpsuit.

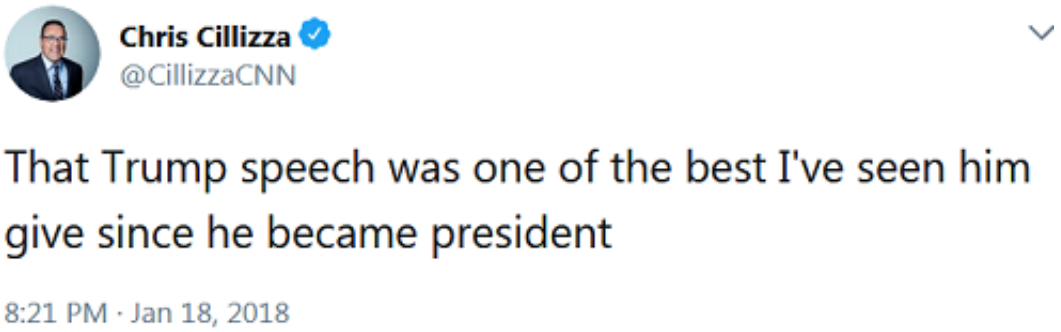
Last night, Chris Cillizza at CNN and the WaPo tweeted this:



They're rare, but there are liberals who make a sincere effort to be fair, and Cillizza is one of them. The speech was the President's at the H&K Equipment company in Pittsburgh. Here is the full text of his speech. Below is the full 24-minute video. At the 20-minute mark, the President's words took Cillizza's breath away, as they will yours:

> "There has never been a better time to hire in America, to invest in America, and to believe in the American Dream than right now.
> There is no limit to what we can achieve when we set free the dreams of our incredible people. You're incredible people. Americans crossed oceans, tamed the wilderness, dug out the Panama Canal, and launched a man onto the face of the moon. American hands and grit poured the concrete in our highways and forged the steel in our skyscrapers.
> Americans built the Hoover Dam — the magnificent Hoover Dam, if you've ever seen it; the Empire State Building. They built it in one year, nobody knows that — one year, it was actually less than one year, the Empire State Building. We won two World Wars.
> Americans do anything, build anything, and create anything – as long as we have pride in our country, confidence in our values, and respect for our great American flag.
> America doesn't belong to the Washington power brokers; it belongs to you… With our destiny in your hands, America will once again be a nation that thinks big, dreams bigger, and always reaches for the stars.

> Nothing will keep this incredible nation of ours down. Nothing will stop us from reaching the highest peaks. Because nothing is stronger than the strength and will and spirit of the American people."

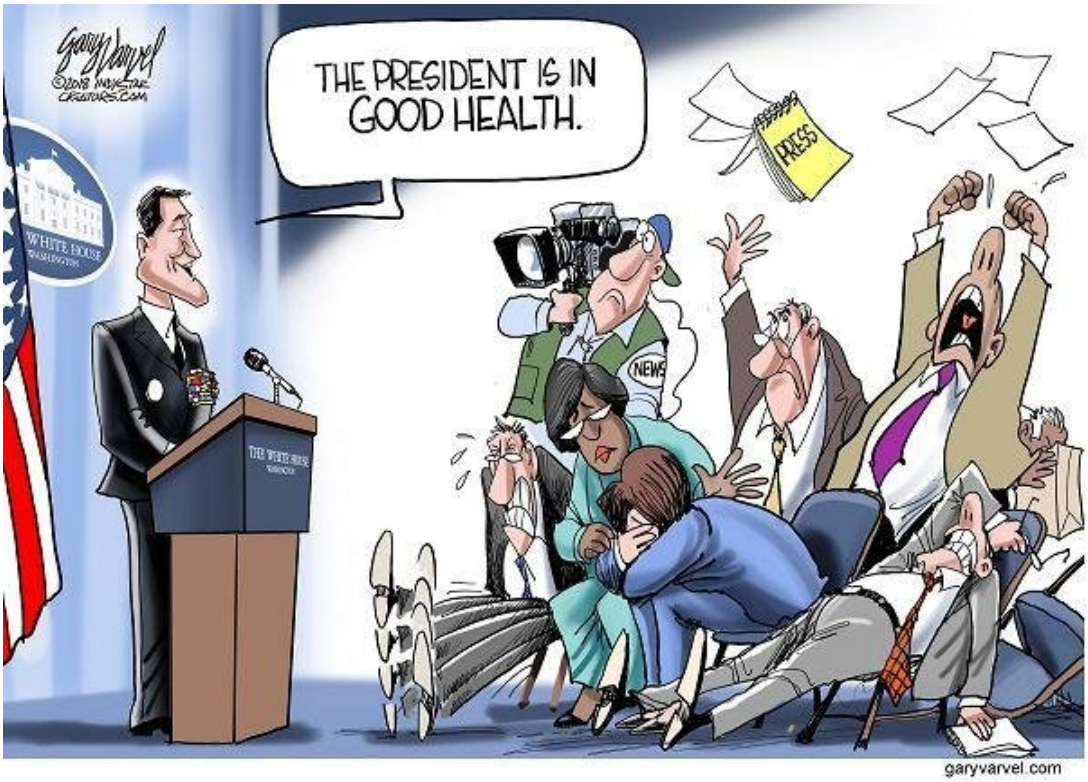
Those were the words of the man whom the Dems and their FNM propagandists want impeached for mental deficiency. They should of course be looking in their mirrors for that. Take for example this Senate looney-bird:

That's New Jersey's Dem Senator Crazy Cory Booker, who went completely mental at DHS Secretary Kristjen Nielson on Wednesday (1/17). The guy needs professional psychiatric treatment and medication.

In fact, so does virtually the entire White House Press Corps. As they note on AT, President Trump Is Mentally and Physically Healthy – the White House Press Corps Is Not.

These bozos went bananas over Rear Admiral Ronny Jackson MD, Physician to the President, and his Report on the President's Health Exam, on Wednesday (1/17). No matter how desperately they tried, grilling Dr. Jackson unmercifully for over an hour, to find a picogram of evidence that he is sick mentally or physically, they failed. Thus:



A cartoon is normally funny because it hyperbolizes something – not here, this is how the FNM actually behaved. So let's get clear on this. We need to send the FNM a message:

> Dear FNM: You really really don't want Trump supporters to go as crazy as you have made yourselves.

> Perhaps you saw this Reuters story from Mexico City last weekend (1/14): Mexican journalist killed amid wave of violence against media.

> Quite frankly, this could be your fate if you succeed in destroying Trump's presidency. Realize that this will be your fate if, God forbid but as you dream of, he is assassinated. Worse actually, because Trumpers have guns, millions of them, not just knives, and you do not.

> So, please, regain your sanity and quickly. It is in your mortal interests to protect the President at all costs. Remember that all Trumpers are John Wayne fans and will take these words of his to heart:

"Now you understand – anything goes wrong, anything at all, you're fault, my fault, nobody's fault, it don't matter, I'm going to blow your head off. It's as simple as that."

We implore you to abandon your self-induced derangement over the fully legitimate election and presidency of Donald Trump. Come to your senses, be Americans again. It is genuinely in your best interests to do so.

Let's hope the Fake Newsers get the message. In the only language they truly understand.

One Fake Newser in particular needs the message – CNN's Dan Rather Wannabe Jim Acosta. Rather made his bones being hyper-offensive to Richard Nixon at press conferences as the Watergate scandal was developing in 1974 – so successfully Rather was promoted to CBS News anchor and became the most famous TV newsman of his day.

That's because Nixon didn't have the guts to take Rather down. Gunga Dan wouldn't have stood a chance with Trump. On Tuesday (1/15), the President held a photo op in the Oval Office with his state guest, Kazakhstan President Nursultan Nazabayev. When it was over, Acosta refused to leave and started asking the President offensive questions.

Pointing his finger at him, Trump dismissed Acosta with one simple word – "Out!" Enjoy…

Acosta is your typical pretty boy girlie-man demasculinized by libtard thinking who's trying to make up for it being obnoxious instead of a real man.

Last weekend (1/13), former Secretary of State Condoleezza Rice gave a CNN interview in which she criticized the #MeToo movement:

"Let's not turn women into snowflakes. Let's not infantilize women."

Good for Condi. Yet she treats this as a new phenomenon – when the core fact about liberals and lefties is infantilizing everyone is what they do, it's one of their basic defining characteristics. It's the liberal neurosis, a compulsion like a pyromaniac's compulsion to set fires or everyone's favorite, a nymphomaniac's compulsion to have sex. The liberal compulsion is to treat adult people as children.

The must-read on this is my Infantilizomania from September 2005. As explained, liberal fascisti don't call their compulsion to infantilize people as such – they call it "compassion." Paid for of course with OPM, gaining power over people by making them dependent on Other People's Money.

The danger for libs is they run the risk of infantilizing themselves. Girlie-man Acosta is a good example. Notice how he slunk out of the room with the wave of a real man's hand.

Time for Winning!

*Kentucky to add Medicaid work requirement; first state to follow Trump plan. That was last weekend (1/13). By Monday (1/15), the headline was Nine more states ready to require jobs for Medicaid enrollees. More to follow.

*Homeland Security pursues charges against leaders of sanctuary cities. Secretary Kirstjen Nielsen has asked federal prosecutors to go after mayors and city council members of "sanctuary cities." Next will come a perp walk for California's Governor Moonbeam.

Speaking of the no-longer Golden State, there's an astounding story in the Sunday Los Angeles Times (1/14): Why is liberal California the poverty capital of America?

Could it be mentally/morally deficient libtards turning the most glorious place in America – where I was born and grew up – into a bleephole Mexifornia overrun with illegals and derelicts in shantytowns? Check the videos of those shantytowns here.

This is coming to an end. Yesterday (1/18), ICE Plans Largest Raid On Northern California Illegals After State Passes Sanctuary Legislation. ICE Director Tom Holman is just warming up.

*New Yorker magazine thought it was being so chic with a story in its current (1/22) issue, The Damage Done by Trump's Department of the Interior. The echo-chamber morons don't realize millions of folks out West would regard this as properly titled The Progress Done by Trump's Interior Dept. But of course no one out West has ever heard of New Yorker much less reads it.

In that regard, you'll enjoy the inimitable Mark Steyn on the Bundys' being freed from federal persecution. It's a real triumph for freedom out West, where an unconscionable (and wholly unconstitutional) amount of land is owned by the Feds, mostly by a fascisti outfit called the BLM (Bureau of Land Management) – "which is to Nevada," Mark comments, "as the Red Army is to Eastern Ukraine."

Which is why my long-time buddy Steve Baldwin is advocating: Trump Needs to Transfer All Federal Land Back to the States. Thanks, Steve.

*And here's news to infuriate every Demtard in the US: Donald Trump's Support Among Blacks Has Doubled Since 2016. Could it just be that, under Trump, black unemployment is the lowest ever recorded (6.8%) with good paying jobs becoming ever more plentiful?

The must-read of the week on Trump's economy is: The DOW at 26,000 – What It Means for Working People, by my friends Lew Uhler and Peter Ferrara in the IBD on Wednesday (1/17). The incredible improvement in the US economy since Trump -- $7.8 trillion in new wealth, 2.5 million new jobs – is no accident, Comrades. Trump really is crazy, say Uhler and Ferrara – like a fox.

Most important long term, they note, is what the Trump economy means for Millennials. Good jobs and entrepreneurial opportunities are going to get them out of their parents' basement and stop being snowflakes.

It's time to go, folks. As of right now, Red State Dems up for reelection in November – Manchin (WV), Heitcamp (ND), Heller (NV), Donnelly (IN) – are abandoning Schumer, as it's made clear that the full blame for the current funding farce will be his, to be known as Schumer's Shutdown.

The whole thing is ridiculous of course, with the only solutions for McConnell to eliminate the filibuster, and Ryan to actually pass a real budget instead of endless CRs. The HFR is all for a Shutdown, as the blame would be on the Dems no matter how the FNM squawks, we'd learn how much we don't need the federalies to run our lives, and it would lead to real reductions in spending via a real budget.

But the bet, sadly, is that some deal will be made to avoid this before midnight tonight, and have to go through all this nonsense in a few more weeks as the can is kicked down the road endlessly.

One last word on the FISA Memo. Wikileaks is offering a $1 million reward for leaking it to the public. That's very cool.

Can't leave without some fun. Three years ago in 2014, a pop singer named Bruno Mars had a hit song called "Uptown Funk." Some clever film editor timed it perfectly with the dancing of the great stars of the past.

Among others, there's Rita Hayworth, James Cagney, Mickey Rooney, Ann Miller, Frank Sinatra, Gene Kelly, Judy Garland, Shirley Temple, and of course, the incomparable Fred Astaire with Ginger Rogers. Enjoy – it's been a great week!
