GLIMPSES OF OUR BREATHTAKING WORLD

[Today we introduce a new feature of TTP – a one-photo glimpse of some breathtaking place on the Earth that is our home. Each photo is taken by (or of) me, with a short description. In these difficult times, it is important to realize how extraordinary is the world we inhabit. We'll try to make this a daily feature – I hope you enjoy it! –JW]

SURREALISTIC ART IN NATURE. You'll find it in Antelope Canyon, a slot canyon near Page, Arizona. No artist could paint something more surrealistic than what nature has created here. You can explore the world to experience the greatest wonders of nature, but they are also to be found here in the American West. (Photo ©Jack Wheeler)
