HALF-FULL REPORT 12/17/21

Jonathan Emord and I have been friends for more than 30 years. He is absolutely the best constitutional lawyer on the First Amendment in the country. And now he has written the absolutely funniest Christmas book of the year. It is the best Christmas present you could give yourself and all your friends – and to read to your kids or grandchildren, they'll laugh non-stop and so will you.

Joe turned to his aides with a sheepish grin

Wrung his hands fiendishly then grasped at his chin

"I stole the election, it's definitely true

And I'll steal their Christmas, it's the least I can do"

Joe nodded with approval

And brimmed with delight

It would be Satan on Christmas

Both day and night

Excerpt from How Biden Stole Christmas

The funniest news of the week is the ubiquitous deluge of media scare stories about the Omicron "variant." Here are four just in the last 24 hours:

'Omicron Is Here' — Joe Biden Warns 'Winter of Severe Illness and Death' for Unvaccinated Americans

Fauci Sets Stage For Omicron Panic, Warns Hospitals Could Be 'Overwhelmed' Within Weeks

Omicron 'Viral Blizzard' Is About To Hit The US, Expert Says, With 'Millions' To Be Infected Soon

Omicron Seen Doubling Every 1½ Days in Parts of U.K.

This is all hilarious because Omicron is turning out to be the virus from heaven, not hell. Its infection rate is exploding in populations all over the world with symptoms no worse than a bad cold for a few days, hospitalizations are plunging, and still not one attributable death anywhere on earth.

(The fear porn people are making a big deal of one single death, but note the BBC is careful to say "with" not "from": First UK Death Recorded With Omicron Variant (12/14), as the British National Health Service made clear.)

Omicron is like the cowpox cure for smallpox. With one very curious difference.

You can trace the evolutionary history of any organism through its mutations, one leading to another in a "mutational tree." Yet when WHO examined over 80,000 samples of the C-19 virus from infected Chinese, they found no intermediate mutations traceable to the bat virus allegedly the C-19 source. With no mutational tree, that's close to conclusive evidence C-19 was engineered in the Wuhan Virology Labs.

Something like this is going on with Omicron. There's an enormous number of mutations – some 50 to 60 in all – many in Omicron's spike proteins that differentiate it from C-19…. But so far no intermediate mutations, no mutational tree or development from C-19 to Omicron have/has been found. Thus the question: was Omicron engineered not to cause a plague but to cure one?

In the world of computer hacking, there are “black hats,” malicious hackers out to cause harm, and “white hats,” hackers who track down black hats, provide protection from them and repair their damage.

Some years ago, there was a black hat virus causing enormous damage to very large computer systems, networks, and server farms. I can’t recall the details from memory, but in the midst of the crisis, suddenly a white hat virus started sweeping through any system infected by the black hat virus and removed it. Nothing else, no tricks or backdoors, that’s all it did and the malicious viral hack vanished. The white hat hackers never revealed who they were, remaining anonymous.

There are some very –very – skilled biohackers out there. The lab equipment needed to engineer a white hat viral cure for covid is less, maybe considerably less, than a million dollars, and there are white hat biohackers with access to it. I don’t know them, but I know they’re out there, and may have engineered Omicron to get rid of the covid curse.

If that’s the case, they must be laughing their derrières off about now with all the manufactured hysteria ginned up by the world’s fascisti.

This morning (12/17), Bloomberg reported: South Africa Hospitalization Rate Plunges in Omicron Wave.

> “South Africa delivered some positive news on the Omicron coronavirus variant on Friday, reporting a much lower rate of hospital admissions and signs that the wave of infections may be peaking.
> Only 1.7% of identified Covid-19 cases were admitted to hospital in the second week of infections in the fourth omicron-driven wave, compared with 19% in the same week of the third delta-driven wave, South African Health Minister Joe Phaahla said at a press conference.”

That's with 20,000 Omicron cases a day now compared to 4,400 during Delta – 4.5 times more cases, a fraction of hospitalization and 100% survivability. What's happening in South Africa, Omicron's ground zero, will be replicated throughout the world and particularly in America leaving Dems and Faucinistas with fascist egg on their faces.

The Vax Mandate & Mask Rebellion will soon be on steroids. In fact, the Dem's looking massively discredited is already here this week:

Still No Deaths From Omicron, And Americans Are Getting On With Their Lives (12/13)

In 90% of the Country, No One Gives a Flying Fig About COVID (12/14)

Yesterday (12/16) on Fox, Dr. Marty Makary, professor of health policy at Johns Hopkins University, explained how Omicron fear is fueling a 'second pandemic of lunacy'.

> "We're seeing this massive new wave of fear that is fueling our second pandemic after COVID-19, which is a pandemic of lunacy, which is omicron. Now I call it omi-cold… a study just came out of the University of Hong Kong telling us that omicron does not invade the lung tissue that's deep in the respiratory tract. It stays superficial in the nose and bronchus. So that's why we're seeing a common cold-like illness."

How long will it be before Xiden and his Dem media loonies stop beating the dead horse of Omicron fear? Can't be more than a few weeks at most. What then?

In last week's HFR 12/10/21, we held the TTP Dem Distraction Contest, asking: "with Omicron failing as their Great Viral Hope, what do you think the Dems' will dream up as the Next Distraction from Bidenflation that will destroy our economy and their electoral hopes for 2022?"

I have to say, your response was overwhelming and profound. I could not encourage you more to consult the responses of such TTPers as Mike Ryan, Joe Katzman, Arthur Murray and many others at:

and continuing on:

They are too good for me to pick just one for a To The Point shirt of their choice. So let me know on the Forum who you vote for! The top three vote-getters win!

And feel quite free to add your thoughts, in light of this week's continuing crash-and-burn of Omicron as the Dem's Saving Distraction. I'll see you on the Forum…

Let's take a look at what else of note went on this week.

On Tuesday (12/14), MTG delivered this inspiring moment on the House Floor denouncing the January 6 Committee and its persecution of Mark Meadows as a "kangaroo court" run by communists:

On Wednesday (12/15) at the Senate, thanks to Democrat Joe Manchin: $1.9 Trillion Reconciliation Package Dead Until 2022; Biden, Manchin 'Not Close to a Deal'.

While on Thursday (12/16), we owe thanks to another Democrat Senator: Kyrsten Sinema Wrecks Biden's Hopes of Destroying Federal Election Integrity Laws; Democrats Panic.

And on the Left Coast yesterday, San Francisco's Woke Mayor Wakes Up! London Breed Performs Screeching U-Turn On 'Defund The Police' Strategy And Slams 'Reign Of Criminals': Calls For 'BullsT' Progressive Policies That Have Destroyed City To Be Replaced With 'More Aggressive' Policing.

Could this possibly trigger the realization among Dems running cities, states, and Washington that their only hope of electoral survival in 2022 is rejection of woketard lunacy and embracing some semblance of normality again? A trend or anomaly, your call.

Can't pass up the most Schadenfreudelicious news of the week.

Last month, the Salvation Army embarked on a campaign called "Let's Talk About Racism," a bald adoption of the anti-white racism of Black Lives Matter: Salvation Army Wants White Donors to Offer “Sincere Apology” for Their Racism (11/24).

And guess what’s happened? Red kettles are empty all over the country with donations falling off a cliff: “The Situation is Dire” – Salvation Army Faces Holiday Shortages After Telling White Donors to Face Their Racism (12/14).

Any mention of their Talk About Racism has been deleted from the SA website, but begging for donations now may not be good enough until the Salvation Army issues a formal “sincere apology” for their anti-white racism. In the meantime, this is true “Get Woke – Go Broke” in inspiring action.

Internationally, the joke is on Greta. Today’s news (12/17) according to the International Energy Agency: Global Coal Usage On Pace For Record High. So much for the abandonment of fossil fuels, much less your “net zero emissions” dream, Greta.

Now, Greta, you’ll note the IEA report states: “In China, where more than half of global coal-fired electricity generation takes place, coal power is expected to grow by 9% in 2021.” So we are asking, when will you be going to Beijing to lecture Prsident Xi? Be sure to use your angriest scowl in full force when you shout at him, “How dare you keep using coal?!?!”

We’re depending on you to save the planet from Communist China, Greta….

And the joke is on the world’s greatest Islamofascist and supporter of Moslem terrorism, Recip Tayyip Erdogan of Turkey.

On Tuesday (12/14), we learn: Poverty, Economic Turmoil Shaking Erdo?an's Throne.

This afternoon (12/17) came the dénouement: Turkey Halts All Stock Trading As Currency Disintegrates, Central Bank Powerless To Halt Collapse. Erdogan is in a panic, doing everything wrong, worsening the economic collapse rather than correcting it. His political collapse is soon to follow. Expect a coup, military or otherwise, shortly.

That's a wrap, folks. We'll close by making you cry. This beautiful and deeply touching Christmas message of family, community, and love is going to make you cry, so be prepared. It is from Chevrolet.

Remember Dinah Shore in the 1950s and her joyous ads singing, "See the USA in your Chevrolet, America's the greatest land of all"? This is very different and deeply powerful. No doubt it would bring a flood of tears to Dinah's eyes as well.
