HALF-FULL REPORT 02/07/25

On Wednesday (2/05), the President signed his Executive Order Keeping Men Out Of Women's Sports. It's such a perfect example of the pathological lunacy of the woketard Left that this would be necessary. Of course, their pathology is no accident, all part of their plan to demasculinize American men.

Among all those who celebrated their failure was Harry Potter author J.K. Rowling, so demonized for being courageously rational.

> Congratulations to every single person on the left who's been campaigning to destroy women's and girls' rights. Without you, there'd be no images like this. pic.twitter.com/mzR7I5k1OW

Once again, Democrats and their media shills are left gasping for breath in a state of chaotic confusion. This meme sums up their situation where Tom Homan stands for all of the mere 19 days so far of Trump's second presidency.

But not all Dem media cheerleaders are confused. Long time TTPer Michael Brissette tipped us off about a must-read in last week's issue (01/29) of The Atlantic. Just to give you an idea of how TDS-infected Atlantic is, the front-page article today with a huge picture of Hitler's government is: The Oligarchs Who Came to Regret Supporting Hitler. One guess why they'd run such a story.

In any regard, the must-read is It's Not Amateur Hour Anymore by savvy deepstater Paul Rosenzweig. Here's how he starts:

> "The first 10 days of Donald Trump's presidency have seen such an onslaught of executive orders and implementing actions that Steve Bannon's strategy to "flood the zone" seems apt. But that characterization is incomplete, and it obscures a more frightening truth: The Trump administration's actions have been not just voluminous but efficient and effective…

> And what they want is very clear: to take full control of the federal government. Not in the way that typifies every change of administration but in a more extreme way designed to eradicate opposition, disempower federal authority, and cause federal bureaucrats to cower…
> A great deal of thought has gone into this effort already. The executive orders and sundry administrative directives and guidance that have been issued reflect a profound understanding of the federal government and exactly where the weak spots within the bureaucracy might lie."

He concludes with a warning to all his fellow Democrats and members of the Deep State: Those who oppose Trump's actions do not have an incompetent opponent; Trump's team is savvy and has been planning for this for years. They came ready.

As a 6-minute read, it's definitely worth your while to read it entire (after the HFR!), while remembering that the author is on the side of Deep State career corruptocrats like David Lebryk at the Treasury Dept. who knowingly signed off on billions of fraudulent payments until forced to quit after refusing to disclose the payments. The lesson to be learned:

Remember the old maxim, “Democrats are the Evil Party, Republicans are the Stupid Party”? Well, this week we saw the Dems become both evil and stupid. Bad combo.

On Tuesday (2/04), ABC News ran this hilarious story: 'This Is A Constitutional Crisis': Democrats Blast Musk And Trump Over USAID.

It’s about a dozen or so Dem Congressistas holding a protest rally in front of the USAID offices in DC the day before (2/03), drawing a crowd of all of a hundred people.

Jamie Raskin (D-MD), renowned for his room-temperature IQ, declared, “Elon Musk, you didn't create USAID. The United States Congress did for the American people … This is a constitutional crisis that we are in today.”

Don Beyer (D-VA), a bright guy who you’d think would know better, claimed “What Trump and Musk have done is not only wrong, it's illegal. USAID was established by an act of Congress, and it can only be disbanded by an act of Congress."

The same from the likes of Ilhan Omar and other such ilk. Musk and the T47 team know just what a sleight of hand shell game the Dems are playing. There is no "constitutional crisis" at all.
The Foreign Assistance Act of 1961 authorized the funding for such a foreign aid agency, but it was President John F. Kennedy who created it with his Executive Order 10973—Administration of Foreign Assistance and Related Functions.

Live by an EO, die by an EO. Thus on his first day back in office on January 20, he issued this EO: Reevaluating And Realigning United States Foreign Aid.

True, for some bizarre reason in 1998, House Speaker Newt Gingrich allowed USAID to be a separate federal agency from the State Department. T47's EO is a first gambit to realign it back into State with a vastly diminished workforce and budget.

AP reported yesterday (2/06): Trump Administration Plans To Slash All But A Fraction Of USAID Jobs, Officials Say. Lot of hair on fire over this, but as AP notes, not many job-protected civil service jobs at USAID. Less than 300 with over 8,000 fireable hires and contractors.

Meanwhile, the 90-day spending freeze has served to focus microscope attention on all the woketard crazy programs USAID spends billions of taxpayer dollars on. A trio sample over the last few days:

USAID Accused of Funneling $260 Million to Organizations Linked to George Soros's Open Society Foundations

Follow The Money: Feds Gave Millions To Left-Wing Media Outlets Including Politico, The New York Times

USAID Is A Trap For Democrats – where David Strom gives a long list of some of the most egregious spending, and notes:

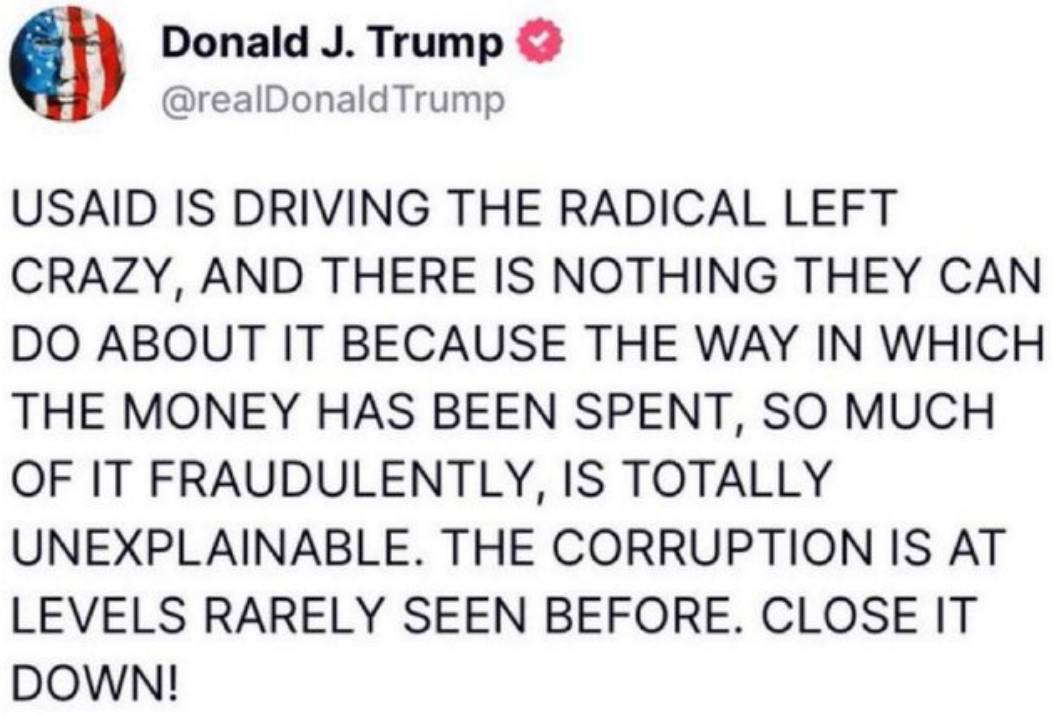
> "The battle over funding for USAID is absolutely glorious for so many reasons. Not only are Donald Trump and Elon Musk beginning to defund the piggy bank being raided by the transnational elite, the alphabet activists, the global left, and not coincidentally, NGOs, which are causing so much damage to the US and the world, but he is forcing the Democrats to defend the least popular spending item in the federal government."

POTUS conclusion today (2/07):



This will result in a tsunami of voter demand for Congress to gut the agency as necessary. Look at this spectacle as Trump playing 3-D chess while Dems play checkers.

Dana Loesch nails it. The chryon in the broadcast says "Dems need to 'un-crazy' themselves" – but her whole point is that the Democrats cannot un-crazy themselves, their sanity is too far gone, on life-support, their party is dying right in front of the world's eyes.

Well, then, might as well go for the jugular, right? That's what Andy Ogles (R-TN) wants to do. From the Daily Mail Today (2/07): Inside Republican's Plan To End The 'Untouchable Deep State' Trying To Tear Down Trump.

Then there's DOGE's Groundbreaking Move To Replace Tens Of Thousands Of Fired Federal Workers As Bloodbath Continues.

After all, it's happening already: Stunning Number Of Federal Workers Taking Trump's Buyout Offer Revealed.

Enjoy watching and hearing famed constitutional law professor Jonathan Turley explain why Trump and Musk are terrifying the DC Deep State. Describing how Musk is Trump's badger will get you a good belly-laugh.

> JONATHAN TURLEY ON DOGE: THE TERROR ALERT IN WASHINGTON IS QUITE ASTONISHING
> "You have people all over the Beltway breathing in paper bags right now because of the idea that they could bring in these people, and that they're going to think outside the box.

Slowly but surely, T47's Cabinet nominees are getting confirmed. Pam Bondi swung immediately into action as our new AG, having been sworn in just ereyesterday (2/5). Bondi DOJ immediately ordered a stop to federal funding of all sanctuary cities harboring illegal aliens.

Yesterday (2/06), Bondi DOJ Sues Illinois and Chicago for Sanctuary Policies. Bondi has Trumpian Energy and is going to wage a non-stop assault protecting us from woketard illegality.

You can tell how good a job our SecState Marco Rubio is doing by: China Melts Down as Marco Rubio Dismantles Its Influence in Latin America. That would be in El Salvador, Costa Rica, Guatemala, the Dominican Republic, and most especially Panama: China Lashes Out At US 'Coercion' As Panama Declines To Renew Agreement. Hahaha….

Last November (11/26), you read in TTP: This Trump Pick Can Silently Strangle The Deep State. That's Russ Vought for OMB.

Here's what happened to him on Wednesday (2/05): Senate Confirms Russell Vought for Office of Management and Budget Despite Massive Democrat Pushback. Lizzie Warren got as freaked out over this as a frog in a sock. Happy strangling, Russ!

Then there's SecDef Pete Hegseth. Already there's an explosion of eager enlistments by guys wanting to be warriors not pussies. Pete is rooting racist DEI policies and programs out of the Pentagon root and branch.

He's ended all Pentagon "Cultural Awareness Months" -- National African American/Black History Month, Women's History Month, Asian American and Pacific Islander Heritage Month, National Hispanic Heritage Month, National Disability Employment Awareness Month, and National American Indian Heritage Month – focusing on "the character of warriors' service instead of their immutable characteristics."

Note the one group consciously excluded from the Milley Pentagon's list of cultures: European Americans. No accident, comrades – as Pete was well aware.

On Wednesday (2/05), Pete posted this clip on X of the first group of illegal alien criminals being incarcerated at Gitmo. America's military is back under Pete.

> The first flight of high-threat criminal illegals aliens has arrived at Naval Station Guantanamo Bay, Cuba. These criminals trampled over our previously wide open border to bring violence and mayhem to our communities. President Trump has taken swift action to expel them… pic.twitter.com/Kml8WX3kIK

Our new SecDHS Kristi Noem was on horseback with the Texas Border Control (she's a raised-on-a cattle-ranch true South Dakota cowgirl), with ICE arresting illegals in New York City, and was in Gitmo for the second arrival of criminal illegals this week. But now she's at the Superdome in Nawlins overseeing security for this Sunday's Super Bowl LIX/59.

By my count, Senate Dems are still stalling on nine more cabinet nominees. The Big Three a-waiting are Kash Pattel for FBI, Tulsi Gabbard for DNI, and RFK2 for HHS. Of the nine, the Dems will want at least one scalp as a consolation prize, and out of the top three not the lesser six.

My bet it will be Tulsi. And in truth, she's the most expendable for the Trump Team. All the confirmation votes will be by the end of next week.

Before we go to have a fun Super Bowl Weekend, I hope you notice we have a new exploration on the left side bar of the TTP Home Page: Exploring Mongolia. I'll be taking a special group of explorers with me to a place that calls to anyone with adventure in their heart.

From June 2 to June 13, we experience Mongolia in a unique way. It's an enormous country – from east to west it's as far as London to Moscow – and there are no roads in most of it. So most travelers only see a small part, not much at all. But we have arranged for charter planes to fly us to remote lands rarely seen, to get to know the last truly nomadic way of life on earth.

And we do this staying in glamping luxury in gers (our own private Mongol nomad tents), private gourmet chef, great wine, the works. Find all about it with lots of awesome photos just by clicking Exploring Mongolia. The special bonus: my wife Rebel will be co-leading us. Please consider joining us for what will be a truly unforgettable life-memory you'll always treasure.

Carpe diem for we only live once!
