The Big Spoof

___

Overview

The Big Spoof. This is what we might as well call these modern times.

Two different United States warships abruptly changed course a few years ago, sailed in circles, and rammed into civilian cargo ships. Watch officers were court-martialed, captains lost command, and sailors were harshly punished. It has long been suspected that Chinese submarines with GPS spoofing technology were nearby. They popped some antennas above the waves and overpowered the GPS navigation signals guiding the U.S. ships.

So began the era of the Big Spoof.

Today's links discuss shenanigans, big shenanigans that affect government policy and the well-being of people worldwide.

We present a hypothesis: Chinese spoofing of communication signals and radar images, computer files and sensor data from satellites – the whole enchilada – was deployed through back doors in Chinese networking technology used by Russia to convince the Russian security apparatus that Ukraine was operating nuclear, biological, and chemical weapons programs targeting Russia.

One year ago, when Ukraine was viciously attacked, Putin's immediate objectives were to secure the cold reactors at Chernoble and demolish agricultural research laboratories with his most valuable hypersonic weapons. The Russians found Chernobyl in a hard shutdown state without much happening, and non of the laboratories produced anything other than war propaganda.

Once he committed, Putin planned for no exit strategy leaving him alive. The United States and NATO are depleting vast land-warfare weapons stores with little hope of remanufacturing the stocks before the end of the decade. This suggests that both Russia and the West will pursue a strategy change as the current approach bleeds out. Information war is a big part of this.

The military went from being the most admired American organization to a woke, bleeding organization. A frightening military brain drain is occurring as experienced personnel, from Navy chiefs to general officers, throw in the towel. They no longer want to spend the most productive part of life in an organization prioritizing skin color and sexual deviance ahead of mission.

Is it possible, perhaps even probable, that the same Chinese shenanigans that might have prompted Putin also convinced Joe Biden to abruptly surrender Afghanistan and leave behind more weapons and technology than has been given to Ukraine? Is it possible that the absurdity of military wokism is due to spoofed reports in the chain of command?

The Feds, meaning the Executive Branch of the United States Government, under the direction of the Speaker of the House, in utter and complete violation of the separation of powers, fabricated the J6 triggering events. Our federal government staged a coup and entrapped thousands of civilians in order to accuse Trump of leading an insurrection and becoming ineligible to run for president in 2024. Then the feds lied and spoofed the media. The greatest crime in history occurred on live tv.

It now looks like the federal government planted J6 evidence to justify the J6 fraud.

Kevin McCarthy gave Tucker Carlson 41K hours of videos from that J6; the fallout is unknown. Tucker reminds the world that he is not suicidal.

Civics are so corrupted and spoofed in the classroom that a majority under 40 prefer socialism to any other economic system.

Now for the scary part: the left is shifting from its chaos strategy to a statist approach. They believe that power is now consolidated under the Red Star. Expect federal jackboots and corporate crackdowns against the unproductive woke now that they are no longer helpful. Leon Trotsky advocated for just such militant internationalism led by the iron hand about a century ago.

This means that the Big Spoof has the Big Trotsky as its objective.

Banks and credit card companies now report purchases from gun and outdoor stores. The CDC demands physicians report the unvaxxed and undervaxxed to the medical databases using new diagnostic codes.

If your physician attempts to collect vaccination status, it is probably time to find a new physician.

Whether you spoof the medical system by reporting jabs you never took is a personal decision. In theory, there are penalties for submitting inaccurate information. But in practice? Who knows?

A.I. is turning out to be psychotic in the worst science-fiction novel way. Increasingly, coders are limiting and modifying A.I. to prevent it from stating the types of truths that Trotskyite governments prefer to sweep under the rug. This is a form of Big Spoof where technology provides erroneous information to meet political objectives.

Leaving Washington, we go down to Florida, Ron DeSantis introduced a Digital Bill of Rights. We will see where it goes as it becomes increasingly apparent that everything is packaged propaganda and manipulation. Electronic signals and messages cannot be trusted. Everything is now an information package.

It is almost as if we need a nation with multiple states having governments near the people so that the truth can be observed and propaganda dismissed. We don't need a distant and imperial government lying and fabricating propaganda with impunity

As for China? It is not clear how they plan to escape the middle-income trap. Their society has an innovation problem caused by their ethical system. They have an innovation gap with the west.

The West will figure out how to deal with the Big Spoof. China will not. It isn't looking good for the panda and dragon.

A Time for Truth

Here are Senator Hawley's comments on our relative risks regarding Taiwan, China, Ukraine, and Russia. As someone with over half a century of experience as a rocket scientist and aerospace weapons physicist, I think his comments make painful but necessary good sense. Of course, Europe wants the U.S. to supply Ukraine with the needed weapons and money. Unfortunately, the U.S. does not have an unlimited supply of money. Our weapons manufacturing capabilities are far more limited and will take years to expand and more years to build up our depleted stockpiles. I don't think we have that much time before Xi invades Taiwan. I believe that the CCP used faked records to trick Putin, who said that he had documents proving that Ukraine had nuclear, radiological, biological, and chemical weapons programs aimed at Russia and that this was a powerful driver for the Russian invasion - and the consequent dramatic depletion of American weapon stockpiles - to the benefit of the CCP: The USA no longer has the capability of fighting a two-front war. The Arsenal Of Democracy sent its manufacturing to China, and we aren't going to be able to rebuild it in time:
